

Take a closer look....

- What would you title this drawing?
- What do you notice about the figures in this image?
- How many people do you think drew this?

Information about the drawing...

Z'otz* Collective

Mirror of Contradictions, 2019

Mixed media on paper

Z'otz* Collective is a group of three artists that work collaboratively to produce art work—each artist works on the same drawing, passing it back and forth to each other until they agree that it is complete. They have been working together for over fifteen years in a shared Toronto studio where they create drawings, paintings, collages, sculptures, and murals. All three artists have Latin American roots: Nahúm Flores (Honduras), Erik Jerezano (Mexico), and Ilyana Martínez (Mexico/Canada).

Wondering what Z'otz* means? It is the Mayan word for bat.

Terms to think about...

Collective: artists working together, united by shared ideas or aesthetics.

Anthropomorphism: when one attributes uniquely human qualities to nonhuman beings or objects. For example: The cartoon "Thomas the Tank Engine" is a fictional train that is the main character of a cartoon.

Surrealism: An international art movement started in the early 1900s that explored the unconscious mind and dreams. The word 'surrealist' suggests 'beyond reality' and was coined by a French poet in 1903. Many surrealist artists used automatic drawing or writing to unlock ideas and images from their unconscious mind while others wanted to draw their dreams.

Take a closer look....

- What would you title this drawing?
- What do you notice about the figures in this image?
- How many people do you think drew this?

Information about the drawing...

Z'otz* Collective

Mirror of Contradictions, 2019

Mixed media on paper

Z'otz* Collective is a group of three artists that work collaboratively to produce art work—each artist works on the same drawing, passing it back and forth to each other until they agree that it is complete. They have been working together for over fifteen years in a shared Toronto studio where they create drawings, paintings, collages, sculptures, and murals. All three artists have Latin American roots: Nahúm Flores (Honduras), Erik Jerezano (Mexico), and Ilyana Martínez (Mexico/Canada).

Wondering what Z'otz* means? It is the Mayan word for bat.

Terms to think about...

Collective: artists working together, united by shared ideas or aesthetics.

Anthropomorphism: when one attributes uniquely human qualities to nonhuman beings or objects. For example: The cartoon "Thomas the Tank Engine", a fictional train that is the main character of a cartoon.

Surrealism: An international art movement started in the early 1900s that explored the unconscious mind and dreams. The word 'surrealist' suggests 'beyond reality' and was coined by a French poet in 1903. Many surrealist artists used automatic drawing or writing to unlock ideas and images from their unconscious mind while others wanted to draw their dreams.